Kentucky Trailer Paint & Reconditioning Announces the Establishment of New Paint and Refurbishing Division

Louisville, KY - (September 1, 2011) - Kentucky Trailer announces the grand opening of its new division: Kentucky Trailer Paint & Reconditioning. The division will operate from its new state-of-the-art paint and decaling facility located near Kentucky Trailer's company headquarters and custom trailer production facility in the Louisville-Jefferson County Riverport Industrial Park in Louisville.

Kentucky Trailer Paint & Reconditioning is a full service paint, decal and reconditioning center providing services to customers with old and new trailers, truck bodies, tractors, industrial and power equipment, emergency vehicles, and public transportation vehicles.

The Kentucky Trailer Paint & Reconditioning facility is a modern and efficient 80,000-square-foot facility that includes an environmentally friendly, 80-foot, state-of-the-art paint booth with heated and rapid curing technology. Kentucky Trailer Paint & Reconditioning associates are dedicated to identifying customer needs and delivering custom solutions. Since opening the facility in March, the staff has grown to include twenty-five associates and expects to hire additional associates in the future as the division grows.

"We live our mission statement everyday and we're proud to offer our customers the very best products and service available in the industry," said Scot Maggard, general manager of Kentucky Trailer Paint & Reconditioning.
