Chairman's Message/Message du président du conseil

MY TERM as CAM's Chairman is winding to a close so this will be my last message to you in this role.

It's been a pretty amazing two years, with some terrific breakthroughs and developments for the association. But the association has also encountered a few new challenges during the last couple of years, along with those old sticklers that continue to persist like a bad smell. Overall, I see the association's momentum moving it forward.

I kicked off my term as Chairman in 2014 by declaring it to be The Year of the Reputable Mover. We put together a determined plan of attack on the disreputable movers operating in the marketplace and maligning the reputation of the entire household goods moving industry. We've made a lot of headway on this issue in the last two years – by opening dialogues with various federal, provincial and municipal government agencies and engaging some interest among them to address the problem. However, the fact that the problem crosses jurisdictions and there seems to be little inclination to enforce existing regulations results in rogue movers still being able to lie, cheat and steal in their day-to-day business practices. CAM's Year of the Reputable Mover has now evolved into an ongoing Reputable Mover Strategy that I'm sure will continue to be a focus for CAM for many years to come.

We've also made great strides in securing CAM's position as the primary reference point for the household goods moving industry. The media frequently contacts CAM for comments in news stories; the Government willingly engages CAM in developing policies that affect the industry; and consumers and consumer protection agencies, as a matter of course, refer to CAM as a resource in the resolution of disputes. All in all, I think the association's profile has become much stronger in the last few years and it can only continue to evolve with the ongoing support of its members.

Our members are the association's reason for being. CAM has been working hard to engage the participation of its members in building the association – such as through its working committees which were set up to encourage greater member input into directing and planning the association's development. But I think that the association's future has to be planned and measured in a more structured way. Early this year, we started formulating a business plan designed to direct the growth of the association through the next three years. Greater resources can be returned to the membership as more and

MON MANDAT à titre de Président du conseil de l'ACD se termine bientôt et il s'agit donc de mon dernier message à ce titre.

Les deux dernières années ont été vraiment emballantes en raison d'avancés et de développements exceptionnels pour l'association. Mais l'association a également fait face à certains nouveaux défis au cours de ces dernières années, de pair avec ces conformistes qui persistent toujours. En général, je considère que l'élan pris par l'association va toujours de l'avant.

J'ai débuté mon mandat à titre de Président du conseil en 2014 en déclarant cette année comme l'Année du déménageur reconnu. Ensemble, nous avons mis en place un plan précis afin de nous attaquer à ces déménageurs frauduleux qui se retrouvent dans ce marché et qui entachent la réputation de l'ensemble des membres de l'industrie du déménagement des biens mobiliers. Nous avons effectué un grand pas dans cette direction au cours des deux dernières années – en initiant un dialogue avec différentes agences gouvernementales au niveau fédéral, provincial et municipal, tout en réussissant à générer un peu d'intérêt de la part de certaines d'elles en vue de solutionner cette problématique. Cependant, le fait que cette problématique se retrouve dans plusieurs juridictions et qu'il semble y avoir une toute petite tendance à appliquer les réglementations actuelles résultent en une situation où les déménageurs frauduleux ont toujours la possibilité de mentir, tricher et voler dans le cadre de leurs pratiques commerciales habituelles. L'Année du déménageur reconnu de l'ACD a maintenant évolué pour devenir une stratégie soutenant les déménageurs réputés de façon continue qui, j'en suis certain, continuera d'être un élément clé pour l'ACD au cours des années à venir.

Nous avons également fait des pas de géant afin d'assurer le positionnement de l'ACD à titre de source de référence première dans l'industrie du déménagement des biens mobiliers. Les médias ont fréquemment communiqué avec l'ACD afin d'obtenir des commentaires sur certaines nouvelles; le gouvernement s'est entendu avec l'ACD pour développer des politiques qui ont une influence sur l'industrie; et, bien évidemment, les consommateurs ainsi que les agences de protection du consommateur se réfèrent à l'ACD à titre de ressource dans la résolution de disputes contractuelles. Dans l'ensemble, je crois que le profil de l'association s'est développé au cours des dernières années et cette situation ne peut que se poursuivre positivement avec le support constant de ses membres.

Nos membres sont la raison d'être de notre association

President's Message/Message du président

2015 HAS BEEN a very interesting year for CAM. As we mentioned in our last fall edition, the social media tools that consumers and businesses are using to communicate their messages are expanding exponentially and, to this end, CAM has recently switched our web service providers. We had a few glitches at the outset but, overall, the transition went smoothly. CAM's home page and content have been reformatted to accommodate the use of handheld devices. Consumers will now be able to access our site directly from their phones.

In addition, we had a cross-section of our members working diligently on reviewing and recommending changes and updates to our current Canadian Professional Mover course content. You should see the results of this review blended into the course material if not by the issue of this magazine, then certainly very shortly thereafter. This will allow us to stay up to date with changes happening with-in our industry.

CAM's International committee has been pursuing changes with the Canada Border Service Agency in an effort to ensure uniformity in customs-clearance procedures with in-bound household goods from around the world. Meetings have been happening through-out the year and it is our hope that by the fall we will have achieved some success in this regard. In follow-up to this, Tracy Jarvis from the CBSA will be addressing our delegates at our conference about the process and we are hoping this message will be a positive one.

Tom Finlay, our current Chairman, will be addressing our group at the conference for the final time as chairman and making way for our new Chairman, Perry Thorne of Greg & Sons Moving and Storage in Toronto. Tom has accomplished a lot during his tenure as Chairman. He initiated the mandate in dealing with rogue movers and, as a result, we have the Ontario Minister of Government and Consumer Services speaking at our conference. Tom set the wheels in motion for the commencement of a business plan for CAM for the next three years which will be endorsed by our Board prior to the upcoming conference. He heads up our marketing and Internet committee and will continue to do so. We have seen the awareness of CAM expand across the country through the use of CANOE.CA which is affiliated with Quebecor which was recently purchased by Postmedia Network. All these results are through the efforts of our marketing committee. Tom, you have made a great contribution to the association and its membership appreciates the time

L'ANNÉE 2015 fut une année très intéressante pour l'ACD. Tel que nous le mentionnions dans notre dernière édition automnale, les outils de médias sociaux qu'utilisent les consommateurs et les entreprises pour communiquer leurs messages se sont développés de façon exponentielle et c'est pourquoi l'ACD a récemment changé de fournisseurs pour ses services Web. Nous avons rencontré quelques problèmes au début mais, dans l'ensemble, la transition s'est bien effectuée. La page d'accueil de l'ACD ainsi que le contenu du site ont été reformatés afin de permettre l'utilisation d'appareils mobiles. Les consommateurs pourront dorénavant accéder à notre site directement à partir de leurs téléphones cellulaires.

De plus, un vaste éventail de nos membres a travaillé de façon diligente à la revue et à la mise en place de recommandations et mises à jour relatives au contenu actuel de notre cours de Déménageurs professionnels du Canada. Vous devriez voir sous peu les changements apportés au matériel du cours suite à cette revue, soit au moment où ce magazine sera distribué ou certainement dans une très courte période de temps. Ceci nous permettra de demeurer à jour avec les différents changements survenus dans notre industrie.

Le comité international de l'ACD a poursuivi les échanges avec l'Agence des services frontaliers du Canada afin d'assurer une uniformité dans les procédures de dédouanement relatives à l'entrée des biens ménagers en provenance du monde entier. Des rencontres se sont déroulées tout au long de l'année et nous sommes confiants que d'ici l'automne, nous aurons complété le tout avec succès. Afin de faire un suivi approprié de cette situation, Tracy Jarvis de l'ASFC fera une présentation à nos délégués lors de notre conférence relativement au processus en cours et nous anticipons que cette communication sera des plus positives.

Tom Finlay, notre Président du conseil actuel, s'adressera à notre groupe lors de cette conférence pour la dernière fois à titre de Président du conseil et assurera subséquemment la transition vers notre nouveau Président du conseil, Perry Thorne de Greg & Sons Moving and Storage à Toronto. Tom a accompli beaucoup de travail au cours de son mandat de Président du conseil. Il a débuté son mandat en traitant avec la problématique liée aux déménageurs frauduleux et le résultat en est que le Ministre des Services gouvernementaux et des Services aux consommateurs de l'Ontario sera un des conférenciers de notre conférence. Tom a initié la mise en place d'un plan d'affaires de trois ans pour l'ACD qui sera approuvé par notre conseil d'administration avant la tenue de la conférence. Il a dirigé notre comité sur le Marketing et l'Internet et il poursuivra cette tâche. Nous avons constaté le développement de la reconnaissance de l'ACD partout au Canada grâce à l'utilisation de CANOE.CA, affilié à Québecor, qui a été récemment acquis par Postmedia Network. Tous ces accomplissements ont été acquis grâce aux efforts de notre comité sur le Marketing. Tom, vous avez grandement contribué au succès de l'association et tous ses membres vous sont reconnaissants pour votre temps investi et l'engagement que vous avez dédié à cette tâche. Nous vous en remercions tous.

Perry assumera le contrôle dès le mois de novembre et, au même moment, Cam Carswell de Country Wide Moving à Saskatoon deviendra notre nouveau vice-président du conseil. Ces assignations seront approuvées lors de notre prochaine assemblée annuelle et, selon ce que j'ai pu constater à ce jour, ceci devrait contribuer à mettre en place une autre période fructueuse pour l'ACD.

Je suis heureux de souligner que l'association poursuit sa croissance. Les adhésions à titre de membre ont augmenté de 5 pourcent comparativement à la même période de l'année dernière. Nous avons accueilli quelques nouveaux membres fournisseurs qui offrent leurs services spécialisés à nos membres à taux privilégiés. Nos membres fournisseurs apportent un support considérable à l'ACD; ils nous aident à offrir les meilleurs programmes et les meilleures activités possibles. La présente édition du Déménageur Canadien est dédiée à nos membres fournisseurs et nous planifions de continuer à accroître leur rôle à l'intérieur de l'ACD dans le futur. En fait, nous avons récemment créé une page Web spécifiquement dédiée à nos membres fournisseurs afin de mettre de l'avant les produits et services qu'ils offrent à notre industrie et ainsi faciliter votre prise de contact avec eux. Je continuerai de mettre l'emphase sur les valeurs fondamentales de l'association et de tirer profit de toutes les opportunités qui pourraient générer une valeur additionnelle à votre adhésion.

Cette année, nous avons surpassé le nombre de participants ayant participé à notre tournoi de golf de l'année dernière et nous anticipons obtenir un nombre record de participants lors de notre conférence à venir. Le programme complet de la conférence ainsi qu'un formulaire d'inscription sont inclus dans la présente édition. Inscrivez-vous dès aujourd'hui afin de découvrir ce qu'ont à dire les spécialistes à propos du futur de notre industrie.

J'espère beaucoup avoir de vos nouvelles relativement à vos propres vues au sujet de l'association. N'hésitez pas à m'appeler.

Mover's Equipment & Supplies Ltd.: Serving the Moving Industry for 25 Years

By Kim Biggar

LONG-TIME CAM MEMBER Mover's Equipment likes challenges. John Ward and his daughter Tracy have put 25 years into finding solutions to movers' equipment needs. Their innovative approach keeps the job interesting, and has helped them build a strong customer base. In fact, some customers have been on board since Mover's opened its doors in 1990.

With this year's milestone anniversary, the company is keen to thank its loyal customers. "We owe our growth and success to our customers," Tracy emphasizes. "Mover's appreciates the amount of new business generated through recommendations from existing customers," she says. "It has been an ongoing challenge to meet the changing demands of the moving industry. We like to invite input from all of our customers in solving their requirements."

Mover's Equipment has made a point of listening to its customers, and sourcing or creating the products they visualize. "They come in with ideas for new or customized equipment or supplies, and Mover's finds ways to furnish the products," says Tracy. Sometimes, changes are needed to handle household goods that have themselves changed over time. Mattresses, for example, are generally deeper now than they used to be. Mover's had its suppliers create a thicker and bigger mattress bag that easily covers today's bigger mattresses. As flat-screen TVs became popular, Mover's came up with special packing products for them, designed to help movers reduce damage and claims. Custom-size dollies, made to spec, are another of the company's products made in response to movers' needs.

The Mover's Equipment team is also doing its part in the area of environmental sustainability. Since 2007, Mover's has sold only biodegradable mattress bags and bubble products that dissolve up to 85 percent in a landfill within five years. For moving companies, use of these products, says Tracy, is a selling feature that appeals to both household and commercial clients.

John Ward (front), Blake Ward and Tracy Ward.

■ Three-Generation Family Business

John Ward started Mover's Equipment in a 2,500-square-foot facility. Within six months of opening, Tracy had joined her father to help operate the business. After several moves over the years, the company is now housed in a 25,000-square-foot warehouse in Mississauga, Ont., that allows for the storage of high stock levels.

This year, Tracy's son Blake chose to join the family business after graduating. He spent previous summers learning the ropes, and now hopes to eventually manage the company's second office, in Ottawa.

Aware of an opportunity in the Ottawa market, Mover's Equipment opened there in May 2015. Discovering that many movers in Ottawa have become accustomed to renting equipment, rather than owning it, Mover's plans to open a full rental division there in the fall.

Focused on customer service, Mover's has been known to pick up orders at its suppliers early in the morning or late at night to ensure that its customers have what they need when they need it. It's that kind of service that inspires customer loyalty and will help the company thrive well beyond its 25th anniversary. ■

Mover's Equipment & Supplies Ltd.: Au service de l'industrie du déménagement depuis 25 ans

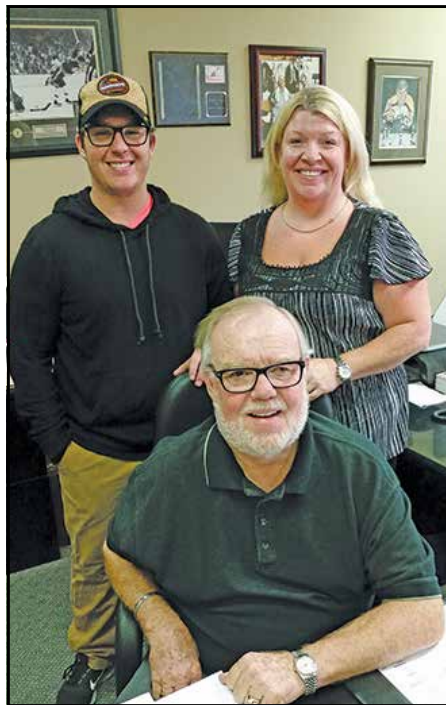

Par Kim Biggar

MEMBRE DE L'ACD depuis fort longtemps, Mover's Equipment adore les défis. John Ward et sa fille Tracy ont investi 25 ans dans la recherche de solutions répondant aux besoins en équipement des déménageurs. Leur approche innovatrice rend ce travail des plus intéressants et leur a permis de développer une excellente clientèle de base. En fait, certains clients sont avec eux depuis le début de Mover's en 1990.

Dans le cadre de l'anniversaire de cette année qui marque un jalon important de son histoire, l'entreprise désire remercier ses loyaux clients. «Nous sommes redevables à nos clients pour notre croissance et notre succès», souligne Tracy. «Mover's apprécie toutes les nouvelles relations d'affaires ayant été développées grâce aux recommandations de ses clients réguliers», mentionne-t-elle. «Ce fut un défi perpétuel de répondre aux demandes évolutives de l'industrie du déménagement. Nous cherchons à recevoir le plus d'information possible de la part de nos clients afin de répondre à leurs exigences.»

Mover's Equipment s'est toujours fait un devoir d'être à l'écoute de ses clients et de trouver ou concevoir les produits qu'ils visualisent. «Ils arrivent avec des idées au sujet de nouveaux équipements et d'équipements adaptés, ou encore de fournitures, et Mover's trouve toujours des façons de leur fournir ces produits», indique Tracy. Parfois, des changements sont requis pour manipuler des biens ménagers qui, eux-mêmes, ont changé avec le temps. Les matelas, par exemple, sont maintenant beaucoup plus profonds qu'auparavant. Mover's s'est assurée que ses fournisseurs conçoivent une enveloppe pour matelas, à la fois plus grande et plus épaisse, qui couvre dorénavant aisément les plus gros matelas que l'on retrouve de nos jours. Au moment où les télévisions à écran plat sont devenues plus populaires, Mover's s'est procurée des produits d'emballage spéciaux pour ces items, conçus pour aider les déménageurs à réduire les dommages encourus et les plaintes. Des socles roulants sur mesure, adaptés aux spécifications, représentent un autre item parmi les produits de l'entreprise qui sont fabriqués en réponse aux divers besoins des déménageurs.

John Ward (à l'avant) Blake Ward et Tracy Ward.

L'équipe de Mover's Equipment contribue également à la protection de l'environnement. Depuis 2007, Mover's s'est efforcée de ne vendre que des enveloppes pour matelas biodégradables et des produits de protection à bulles d'air qui seront dissous jusqu'à 85 pourcent dans les sites d'enfouissement, et ce, en moins de cinq ans. Tracy mentionne que pour les compagnies de déménagement, l'utilisation de ces produits devient une caractéristique de vente des plus attrayantes auprès des clients individuels et commerciaux.

■ Une entreprise familiale de troisième génération

John Ward a démarré Mover's Equipment dans des installations de 2 500 pieds carrés. Après 6 mois, Tracy a rejoint son père afin de l'assister dans la gestion de l'entreprise. Après quelques déménagements successifs, l'entreprise est maintenant installée à Mississauga en Ontario, dans un entrepôt de 25 000 pieds carrés qui permet de maintenir en entrepôt des niveaux d'inventaires élevés.

Cette année, Blake, le fils de Tracy, a choisi d'intégrer les rangs de l'entreprise familiale après sa graduation. Au cours des étés précédents, il s'était efforcé d'y faire son apprentissage et il anticipe maintenant de diriger le bureau secondaire de l'entreprise situé à Ottawa.

Sachant qu'il se présentait une opportunité dans le marché d'Ottawa, Mover's Equipment y a ouvert un bureau d'affaires au mois de mai 2015. Ayant découvert que plusieurs déménageurs de la région d'Ottawa pré-féraient louer leurs équipements de déménagement que les acheter, Mover's planifie y ouvrir une division opérationnelle de location d'équipements dès l'automne.

Orientée sur le service à la clientèle, Mover's est reconnue pour la cueillette de ses commandes chez ses fournisseurs, tôt le matin ou en fin de soirée, afin de s'assurer que ses clients aient ce dont ils ont besoin, au moment où ils en ont besoin. C'est ce niveau de service qui suscite la fidélité de la clientèle et qui permettra à l'entreprise de progresser bien au-delà de son vingt-cinquième anniversaire. ■ and commitment you have made. We thank you.

Perry will be taking over the controls in November and also Cam Carswell of Country Wide Moving in Saskatoon will step up as our new Vice Chairman. These appointments will be endorsed at our upcoming annual general meeting and, from what I have seen so far, this should prove to be another exciting era for CAM.

I am pleased to report that the association is continuing to grow. Membership has increased by five percent compared to this time last year. We've brought on board a few new supplier members that are offering their special services to members at preferred rates. Our supplier members provide considerable support to CAM; they help us to deliver the best programs and events that we can. This issue of The Canadian Mover is dedicated to supplier members and we plan to continue to enhance their profile in CAM in the future. In fact, we recently created a web page dedicated to our supplier members to highlight their products and services in the industry and to make it easier for you to contact them. I will continue to keep the core values of the association in the forefront and take advantage of any opportunities that will provide more value for your membership.

We surpassed last year's golf turnout this year and are hoping for a record turnout at our upcoming conference. A complete conference program with a registration form is included in this issue. Register today to find out what the specialists are saying about the future of our industry.

I look forward to hearing from you about your thoughts for the association. Please feel free to call.

Innovative Program Will Add Value to CAM Membership

By Kim Biggar

MEMBERSHIP in the Canadian Association of Movers has long provided such benefits as networking opportunities, referrals to potential customers, access to training and certification, reputation validation and more. Seeking ways to increase the value of membership, the association recently established a five-year partnership with GPS Consulting Group for the provision of a comprehensive benefits program.

Still in development, this national program will be launched at CAM's annual conference in Ottawa. In a presentation on Monday, November 2 (the conference runs from November 1 to 3), GPS partners Gord Cowan and Bruce Tomkins will introduce members to the program package, which will include insurance and extended health care coverage, an employee assistance program, and access to – and advice on the use of – a wide range of HR resources and tools.

GPS set out to create a program that would truly meet the needs of CAM members. Through a survey sent to mover and supplier members earlier this year, they sought to learn about not only the level of interest in a benefits program, but also the most-common issues faced by respondents that a program might address. With a 37-percent response rate (a statistically valid response), the survey has enabled GPS to put together a tailored package of offerings.

As with any group, CAM members will benefit from group purchasing power. The members that participate in the program will be considered, in effect, a single client, therefore eligible for higher limits of coverage, at lower cost, than they could attain individually.

The innovation of the new program is in GPS' ability to source from multiple best-in-class providers without creating an administrative headache for customers. A single third-party platform will support users with one point of contact, regardless of how many companies provide coverage. This practice, fairly new to the small corporate market, both streamlines administration and provides the best-possible benefits for employees. As well as providing one point of contact, it requires only one enrollment for each employee, even if providers change in the future. Further, the third-party administrator consolidates data from the providers, issuing invoices that combine all amounts owing and benefit summaries that incorporate information from all.

■ What Will the Program Include?

CAM's benefits program will provide access to coverage for life, dependent life, accidental death and dismemberment (AD&D), and long- and short-term disability insurance, as well as for extended health and dental expenses. Notably, the program will utilize Health Care Spending Accounts (HCSAs), providing employees with flexibility in the spending of the health care funds available to them. HCSAs are good for employers, too; they allow them to offer flexible benefits – a boon in recruitment and retention efforts – at a fixed cost, an effective cost-containment strategy.

The program will include enhancements, such as higher limits for life and disability benefits, for company executives, taking into account their likely higher requirements. (Moreover, HCSAs enable executives to pay their out-of-pocket medical expenses in the most tax-efficient manner.)

An employee assistance program will offer short-term counselling to help employees deal with personal and family problems that are affecting their work and well-being.

Through a subscription service, CAM members will be able to access current HR resources and tools, along with professional support related to their use. Among the tools will be downloadable, customizable templates that can be used to assist in the development and administration of HR policies. Call-centre support personnel will be able to advise on HR policies and practices in such areas as hiring, vacation time, relationship issues and termination.

Finally, a retirement savings plan will also likely be part of the program. If it is, group buying power will again have an impact, resulting in lower investment-management fees and administration expenses. (At the time of writing, in mid-August, not all details of the program have been finalized.)

■ Why Join CAM's Benefits Program?

In addition to the cost savings made possible through group buying, CAM's benefits program will provide best-in-class coverage from multiple providers and still be relatively simple to administer on a single platform through a third-party administrator.

Benefits available through the program will differ by company; packages are customizable, allowing each member company to create the package it considers best to meet employee needs. Additionally – and unusually – companies that have good claims experiences will not be adversely affected by those with higher claims utilization. Although they're all part of a group, each company is seen as a stand-alone organization when a once-a-year review of claims is undertaken; companies with lower utilization will not subsidize those with higher claims.

CAM President Paul Leader believes the GPS program will offer real value to members. "Along with the B2B Credit Chex partnership we announced in June of this year, the benefits program that will soon be available through GPS increases the value of membership in the association. This program will offer cost savings and a top-notch package of offerings. I don't think it can be beat."

Gord Cowan and Bruce Tomkins will speak and exhibit at CAM's annual conference. Find out more about the benefits program there, or watch for information in CAM communications after that date.

Un programme innovant qui rehaussera la valeur de l'adhésion à l'ACD

Par Kim Biggar

Gord Cowan (à gauche) et Bruce Tomkins, partenaires.

Le volet innovateur de ce nouveau programme repose sur la capacité de GPS de sélectionner les meilleurs prestataires de service sans imposer une complexité administrative aux clients.

L'ADHÉSION à titre de membre de l'Association Canadienne des Déménageurs conférait depuis longtemps des bénéfices tels que des opportunités de réseautage, des opportunités de recommandation d'entreprises auprès de clients éventuels, l'accès à de la formation et à une certification, l'homologation de la réputation d'un membre et encore plus. Toujours à la recherche de façons d'augmenter la valeur de l'adhésion, l'association a récemment conclu un partenariat de cinq ans avec GPS Consulting Group pour la fourniture d'un régime complet d'avantages sociaux.

Encore à la phase de développement, ce programme national sera introduit lors de la conférence annuelle de l'ACD à Ottawa. Lors d'une présentation planifiée pour le lundi 2 novembre (la conférence se déroulera du 1^{er} au 3 novembre), Gord Cowan et Bruce Tomkins, nos partenaires de GPS, présenteront aux membres présents l'ensemble du programme qui inclura une protection d'assurance et d'assurance-maladie complémentaire, un programme d'assistance aux employés ainsi que l'accès – et les conseils relatifs à leur utilisation – à un large éventail de services et d'outils spécialisés en ressources humaines.

GPS prévoit concevoir un programme qui répondrait réellement aux besoins des membres de l'ACD. Par l'entremise d'un sondage acheminé plus tôt cette année à nos membres déménageurs et fournisseurs, ils ont cherché à en apprendre plus, non seulement sur le niveau d'intérêt en regard d'un régime d'avantages sociaux, mais également sur les problématiques les plus répandues auxquelles sont confrontés les répondants qui pourraient être intéressés par un tel régime. Avec un taux de réponse de 37% (une réponse valide sur le plan statistique), le sondage a permis à GPS de préparer une offre de programme spécialement adaptée aux membres.

Comme pour tout autre groupe, les membres de l'ACD bénéficieront d'un pouvoir d'achat collectif. Les membres participant au programme seront considérés de fait comme un seul et même client, pouvant ainsi se prévaloir de limites de protection plus élevées que ce qu'ils pourraient obtenir individuellement, et ce, à un coût plus bas.

Le volet innovateur de ce nouveau programme repose sur la capacité de GPS de sélectionner les meilleurs prestataires de service sans imposer une complexité administrative aux clients. Une seule et même plateforme, gérée par un tiers, sera à la disposition des utilisateurs avec un point de service unique, quel que soit le nombre de compagnies offrant une telle protection. Cette approche, relativement nouvelle pour un petit secteur de marché corporatif, permettra à la fois d'en simplifier l'administration et d'offrir les meilleurs avantages possibles aux employés. Tout en offrant un point de service unique, le programme ne requerra qu'une seule inscription de chaque employé, même si les prestataires de services devaient changer ultérieurement.

De plus, l'administrateur tiers regroupe les données reçues des prestataires et émet les factures qui incorporeront tous les montants dus et le sommaire des avantages dispensés par l'ensemble des prestataires.

■ Qu'inclura le programme?

Le régime d'avantages sociaux de l'ACD offrira l'accès à une protection d'assurance vie, d'assurance vie des personnes à charge, d'assurance vie et perte de membres en cas d'accident (AD &D) et une assurance invalidité de longue et de courte durée ainsi qu'une couverture des frais d'assurance maladie et dentaire. Le programme utilisera notamment la gestion des Comptes Soins de santé (HCSA) en offrant aux employés toute la flexibilité requise relativement aux dépenses de soins de santé encourues qui sont disponibles. Les Comptes Soins de santé (HCSA) répondent également aux besoins des employeurs; ils leurs permettent d'offrir des avantages sociaux flexibles – un atout primordial dans le cadre des efforts de recrutement et de rétention d'employés – à un coût fixe, une stratégie efficace de contrôle des coûts d'exploitation.

Le programme comportera des améliorations telles des limites plus élevées de prestations d'assurance vie et d'invalidité, à l'intention des cadres supérieurs, en considérant leurs exigences relativement plus élevées. (En outre, les Comptes Soins de santé (HCSA) permettent aux cadres supérieurs de payer leur portion de frais médicaux de la manière la plus avantageuse sur le plan fiscal.)

Un programme d'assistance aux employés offrira des services de consultation à court terme afin d'assister les employés confrontés à des problèmes personnels ou familiaux qui affectent leur travail et leur bien-être.

Grâce à un service d'inscription, les membres de l'ACD pourront avoir accès à des services et à des outils dédiés aux ressources humaines ainsi qu'à un service d'assistance professionnel associé à leur utilisation. Parmi les outils qui pourront être téléchargés, vous retrouverez des modèles de documents personnalisables qui peuvent être utilisés pour faciliter la mise en place et la gestion de politiques en ressources humaines. Le personnel du centre d'appel pourra donner les conseils nécessaires relativement aux politiques de ressources humaines et aux pratiques habituelles dans des secteurs comme l'embauche, les vacances, les problématiques liées aux relations personnelles et les cessations d'emploi.

Finalement, un programme d'épargne retraite devrait vraisemblablement être intégré à ce régime. Dans un tel cas, le pouvoir d'achat collectif aura ici également une influence importante, générant ainsi des frais administratifs et des frais de gestion des placements inférieurs. (Au moment de la rédaction de ce texte, à la mi-août, les détails du programme n'avaient pas tous été finalisés.)

■ Pourquoi adhérer au Régime d'avantages sociaux de l'ACD?

En plus des épargnes de coûts rendues possibles grâce au regroupement d'achat collectif, le régime d'avantages sociaux de l'ACD offrira quelques-unes des meilleures protections disponibles offertes par différents prestataires et qui seront toujours relativement faciles à gérer par le biais d'une plateforme unique offerte par un administrateur indépendant.

Les avantages offerts dans le régime différeront selon les compagnies; les forfaits sont personnalisables, permettant à chaque entreprise membre de concevoir le forfait qu'elles jugeront le mieux adapté aux besoins de leurs employés. De plus – et exceptionnellement – les entreprises qui afficheront une bonne performance au niveau des réclamations ne seront pas touchées négativement par celles qui afficheront une utilisation de réclamations supérieure.

Bien qu'elles soient toutes parties intégrantes d'un même groupe, chaque compagnie sera considérée comme une seule compagnie autonome lorsqu'une révision annuelle des réclamations sera réalisée; les compagnies démontrant une faible utilisation ne subventionneront donc pas celles qui affichent un niveau élevé de réclamations.

Paul Leader, président de l'ACD, considère que le programme de GPS offrira une valeur réelle aux membres. «Conjugué au partenariat intervenu avec B2B Credit

Chex et annoncé au mois de juin dernier, le régime d'avantages sociaux qui sera bientôt disponible par l'intermédiaire de GPS augmente d'autant la valeur d'une adhésion à titre de membre de l'association. Le programme offrira des épargnes de coûts et un ensemble de forfaits parmi les meilleurs sur le marché. Je considère vraiment que c'est une offre difficile à égaler.»

Gord Cowan et Bruce Tomkins seront conférenciers et exposants lors de la conférence annuelle de l'ACD lors de laquelle vous en apprendrez plus au sujet du régime d'avantages sociaux. Surveillez également les informations à venir dans les prochaines communications de l'ACD après la conférence.

What's My (Customer's) Credit Score? How accurate is it?

By Bruno Santia

In today's highly-accelerated world of data analytics, the most important factor in determining the credit worthiness of a person or business... is Character.

CREDIT AT ITS SIMPLEST is the trust you have in someone else's promise of payment at a future date.

The person or company giving credit is the creditor. The person or company receiving it is the debtor.

I have been in the credit information world all of my adult life and I find that in today's highly-accelerated world of data analytics, the most important factor in determining the credit worthiness of a person or business has been totally forgotten. That key factor is Character.

Yes, Capacity, Capital and Conditions play important roles in predicting the likelihood of a person or a business keeping their promises to you, however Character is what trumps the other C's.

You'll find people who may be in a terrible financial capacity at any one time and always honour their commitments and promises to you. You'll also find people who have loads of ability and financial resources to keep their promise to you, yet getting them to "pay you" what is owed becomes a nightmare. What's the difference? Character.

Like political polling, credit scores and credit predictors are becoming less and less reliable in determining the credit-worthiness of any one individual or company. A 74% chance of getting paid is a nice discussion number as to what generally happens but is a dangerous numerical indicator to make a decision on a specific person's or business's future behavior. For that, the computer data must be supported by Human Judgment.

Intuition and context have not been programmed into computers and yet I see too many instances where it's the computer's score decision that is followed while the very important human element is totally ignored. This, in my humble yet experienced opinion, is a dangerous reality in today's economy.

"74% likelihood" won't catch the debtor who sets out to intentionally not pay you, nor will it tell you there's much more future business opportunity with that person or business.

The number one question I have been asked in the thousands of seminars I have conducted over the last 30 years on this topic is, "How do I read a credit report?"

The amazing thing here is not the question itself, but that it comes from people who have been using these "tools" for most of the working lives and are considered credit professionals. That's a scary fact.

Your loans officer at your local bank has very little knowledge of how your own credit score is arrived at. They are simply trained to use it as a tool to sell you their "suggested" interest rate offer.

■ Consumer Credit Reports vs. Business Credit Reports

I'd like to provide you with some important facts about the difference in the Canadian consumer-credit-information world and the Canadian commercial-credit-information world.

Consumer credit reports are governed by Canadian privacy laws and require your permission to have others access that information. Business credit reports are not. You do not need the owner's permission to purchase a "Business Credit Report".

Over 95% of consumer credit transactions are reported to the two Canadian Consumer Credit Bureaus. Less than two percent of business credit transactions in Canada are reported to any Commercial Credit Bureau.

At two percent coverage, how accurate can computer algorithms truly be? I'm sure most mathematicians and pollsters could argue the accuracy of their craft, however, just because a business always pays their courier bill on time does not mean they pay other vendors on time. If the courier is the only company reporting, I guarantee you that credit score is wrong. Similarly, just because John Doe is late on a few minimum payments on his credit card is no indicator that he's a deadbeat. Mathematicians and pollsters can argue the accuracy of averages, they cannot argue the accuracy of individuality.

Where all others have virtually ignored the hard to measure "Character" factor, we at B2B proactively research the details of this key determinant of future payment expectation. It's the keystone of our credit recommendations.

The more the general public in Canada becomes aware of what happens in the world of credit reporting, how it works, and how it impacts our personal and professional lives, the stronger our economy will be. As it stands, the lack of transparency and understanding of this industry is unacceptable and self-serving.

By the time you receive this issue of our magazine, we'll be just weeks away from our annual conference on November 1-3 in Ottawa. "Better Partnerships for Better Business" is the theme of the conference this year – and it could easily be the overriding theme for CAM. I believe that we can work together in this association for the common good of our industry and for individual benefit of a member company. I urge you to register for the conference to find out what CAM is all about and to hear what the professionals have to say about our industry's future.

I've met some terrific people at various meetings and conferences while I've been Chairman. I'm referring to the directors and committee members who give freely of their time and expertise working on behalf of CAM. Quelle est ma cote de solvabilité (client)? Quelle en est l'exactitude?

Par Bruno Santia

Le facteur le plus important dans l'établissement de la capacité de payer d'une personne ou d'une entreprise...est le Caractère.

L E CRÉDIT dans sa forme la plus simple représente le niveau de confiance que vous avez en regard de la promesse de paiement d'une autre personne à une date ultérieure.

La personne ou l'entreprise qui alloue le crédit est le créancier. La personne ou l'entreprise qui le reçoit est le débiteur.

J'ai été dans le domaine de l'information sur le crédit toute ma vie et je considère que dans le monde de l'analyse des données d'aujourd'hui, au rythme de plus en plus accéléré, le facteur le plus important dans l'établissement de la capacité de payer d'une personne ou d'une entreprise a été complètement oublié. Ce facteur clé est le Caractère.

Bien sûr, la Capacité, le Capital et les Conditions tiennent des rôles importants pour prédire la probabilité qu'une personne ou une entreprise tienne ses engagements envers vous, cependant le Caractère est ce qui a préséance sur les autres C.

Vous trouverez des personnes qui peuvent être dans une terrible situation financière à certains moments et qui honoreront toujours les engagements et les promesses à votre égard. Vous trouverez aussi des personnes qui ont beaucoup de ressources et de capacités financières afin de respecter leurs promesses à votre égard, bien que le fait d'être certain qu'ils vous paieront ce qui est dû se transforme vite en cauchemar. Quelle est la différence? Le Caractère.

Tout comme les sondages politiques, les indicateurs prévisionnels de cote de solvabilité et de crédit deviennent de moins en moins fiables dans l'établissement de la capacité de payer de tout individu ou de toute entreprise. Une probabilité de 74% d'être payé demeure un intéressant chiffre de discussion quant aux chances de se réaliser, mais s'avère aussi un indicateur numérique dangereux lorsque vient le temps de prendre une décision sur le comportement futur d'une personne ou une entreprise spécifique. Pour ce, les données informatiques doivent être supportées par le jugement humain.

L'intuition et le contexte n'ont pas été programmés dans les ordinateurs et je vois encore trop de situations où c'est la décision prise en fonction du résultat obtenu par l'ordinateur qui est suivie tandis que l'élément humain, tellement important, est complètement ignoré. Il s'agit, selon mon humble mais expérimentée opinion, d'une dangereuse réalité dans l'économie d'aujourd'hui.

"Une probabilité de 74%" ne vous signalera pas un débiteur dont l'intention ultime est de ne pas vous payer, ni ne vous dira s'il y a beaucoup plus d'opportunités d'affaires futures avec cette personne ou cette entreprise.

La principale question qu'on m'a posée à ce sujet dans les milliers de séminaires que j'ai dirigés au cours des 30 dernières années est : "Comment dois-je lire un rapport de solvabilité?" La chose étonnante ici n'est pas la question en elle-même, mais qu'elle provienne de personnes qui ont utilisé ces "outils" au cours de leur vie professionnelle et qui sont considérées comme des professionnels du crédit. C'est là un fait inquiétant.

Le directeur du crédit de votre succursale bancaire locale possède très peu de connaissance quant à la façon dont votre cote de crédit a été élaborée. Ils sont simplement entraînés à se servir de cet outil pour vous vendre leur offre de taux d'intérêt "suggéré".

■ Rapports de solvabilité à la consommation vs Rapports de solvabilité commerciale

J'aimerais vous présenter quelques faits importants relativement à la différence entre le monde de l'information sur le crédit à la consommation et le monde de l'information sur le crédit commercial.

Les rapports de solvabilité à la consommation sont soumis aux lois canadiennes en matière de protection de la vie privée et requièrent votre autorisation afin que d'autres personnes puissent avoir accès à ces informations. Les rapports de solvabilité commerciale ne le sont pas. Vous n'avez pas besoin de la permission du propriétaire pour acheter un "Rapport de solvabilité d'une entreprise".

Plus de 95% des transactions de crédit à la consommation sont signalées aux deux Bureaux de crédit à la consommation canadiens. Au Canada, moins de deux pourcent des transactions de crédit commerciales sont signalées à l'un ou l'autre des bureaux de crédit commercial.

Avec une couverture de seulement deux pourcent, comment les algorithmes informatiques peuvent-ils vraiment être précis? Je suis certain que beaucoup de mathématiciens et de sondeurs pourraient débattre de la précision de leurs prévisions, mais le fait qu'une entreprise paie ses factures de services de messagerie ne signifie aucunement qu'elle paiera ses autres fournisseurs en temps voulu. Si le service de messagerie est la seule entreprise qui signale cette situation, je vous prédis que la cote de solvabilité est dans l'erreur. De façon similaire, le fait que Pierre Untel soit en retard sur quelques paiements minimaux de sa carte de crédit n'est pas un indicateur qu'il est un mauvais payeur. Les mathématiciens et les sondeurs peuvent argumenter quant à la précision des moyennes, ils ne peuvent pas argumenter sur la précision de l'individualité.

Alors que tous les autres ont virtuellement ignoré ce facteur "Caractère", si difficile à mesurer, chez B2B, nous recherchons de façon proactive les détails de ce facteur déterminant relatif à l'anticipation d'un paiement futur. C'est la pierre angulaire de nos recommandations de crédit.

Au Canada, plus le grand public sera mis au fait de ce qui se produit dans le monde de l'information sur le crédit, de son fonctionnement et des impacts sur nos vies personnelles et professionnelles, plus forte sera tion. L'ACD s'est efforcée de susciter la participation de ses membres dans le développement de l'association – comme par l'intermédiaire de ses comités de travail qui ont été mis en place pour encourager l'assistance d'un plus grand nombre de membres relativement à la planification et à la mise en place du développement de l'association.

Mais, je considère que le futur de l'association doit être planifié et mesuré de manière plus structurée. Plus tôt cette année, nous avons développé un plan d'affaires conçu pour gérer la croissance de l'association au cours des trois prochaines années. De meilleures ressources peuvent être transférées aux membres, telles que de nouveaux et de meilleurs programmes, plus d'opportunités de développer et de promouvoir les affaires et, de façon générale, plus de valeur associée à une adhésion. Je suis certain que vous en apprendrez plus au sujet de ce plan d'affaires de la part de votre prochain Président du conseil.

Au moment où vous recevrez la présente édition du magazine, nous ne serons plus qu'à quelques semaines de notre conférence annuelle qui se tiendra à Ottawa du 1^{er} au 3 novembre. Le thème de notre conférence de cette année est «De meilleurs partenariats pour un meilleur environnement d'affaires» – et ce pourrait facilement devenir un thème notre économie. À l'heure actuelle, le manque de transparence et de compréhension de cette industrie est inacceptable et sert uniquement ses intérêts.

Bruno Santia est le président de B2B Credit Chex, Inc. Si vous avez des questions relativement à ce sujet, vous êtes invité à communiquer avec lui, par courriel à bruno@b2bchex.com, par téléphone au 1-888-945-5576, ou par fax au 1-888-945-5573. S'il ne peut vous offrir de réponse, il pourra vous référer à une autre personne. Vous pouvez également visiter leur site Web au www.b2bchex.com.

récurrent pour l'ACD. Je crois que nous pouvons travailler ensemble dans cette association pour le bien commun de notre industrie et pour le bénéfice individuel des compagnies membres. Je vous conjure de vous inscrire à la conférence afin de découvrir tout ce que représente l'ACD et de découvrir ce qu'ont à dire les professionnels au sujet du futur de notre industrie.

J'ai rencontré des personnes exceptionnelles au cours des différentes réunions et conférences auxquelles j'ai participé durant mon mandat. Je fais référence ici aux directeurs et aux membres des comités qui ont donné de leur temps et de leur expertise en travaillant au nom de l'ACD. Ces personnes proviennent de différents endroits au Canada et elles apportent toutes des perspectives différentes sur l'industrie, mais elles ont toutes une chose en commun : elles sont engagées à améliorer leur industrie et leur association, Merci à chacun de vous pour m'avoir offert un soutien constant et des conseils judicieux au cours de mon mandat. Je suis confiant que vous saurez démontrer le même niveau d'enthousiasme et de soutien envers mon successeur.

Reduce Weight Load with the Proper Handling Equipment!

ON A YEARLY AVERAGE, 140 movers' employees are injured on the job, mostly by moving heavy loads. Those accidents can have significant impacts, such as repeated absences from work, medical leaves or recurring pains.

One way to prevent move-related injuries is to lighten the load to be transported using the proper handling equipment. However, it is not always easy to choose the right materials-handling equipment. Thanks to the handling-equipment search tool now available on www.csst.qc.ca/manutention, the web site of Quebec's La Commission de la santé et de la sécurité du travail (Workplace Health and Safety Commission or CSST), manual or motorized two-wheeled hand truck, four-wheeled dolly, hydraulic lift and many other kinds of equipment can now be easily identified.

To help employers and workers choose the best equipment, the CSST launched their new search tool in which you can refer to 35 different equipment data sheets with pictures. Each data sheet includes a description of the equipment, the selection criteria to be taken into account for its purchase or lease, as well as tips for safe use. Moreover, since a user must also consider the different component parts of the equipment, a comprehensive glossary provides recommendations on the choice of materials, handles, wheels, etc.

The tool has a search engine that allows you to search by product type or load-movement type. For example, if you need to move a table and chairs on a staircase on your move, in the menu, you can first select "chairs, tables" among the "products to handle" category and then narrow your search among different load-movement types detailed in the menu, for example, by selecting "Carry on different levels (stairs)". In this case, you will then be given access to two-wheeled hand truck and other handling-equipment data sheets that best meet your needs.

■ OHS — It's Time to Talk About It

Employers and workers are invited to test the search tool and to generate discussion about the handling equipment to be used in their respective workplaces according to the tasks to be performed. In general, the CSST supports the development of a musculoskeletal-disorders (MSD) prevention culture in the workplace and is continuing to create tools that will assist employers and workers in working on prevention. The ultimate goal is to eliminate risk factors associated with MSD injuries and to implement sustainable solutions.

Allégez la charge, avec le bon appareil de manutention !

EN MOYENNE, 140 déménageurs par année se blessent au travail, dont la majorité en déplaçant des charges lourdes. Ces accidents peuvent avoir des conséquences graves, comme des absences fréquentes, des arrêts de travail complets ou des douleurs permanentes.

L'un des moyens pour prévenir les blessures liées aux déménagements est d'alléger la charge à transporter en utilisant le bon appareil de manutention. Toutefois, choisir le bon appareil de manutention n'est pas toujours simple. Diable à escalier manuel ou motorisé, socle roulant à quatre roues, chariot avec table élévatrice : autant d'appareils qu'il devient facile de reconnaître grâce à l'outil de recherche des appareils de manutention, disponible sur le site Web de la CSST (www.csst.qc.ca/manutention).

Pour aider les employeurs et les travailleurs à faire le meilleur choix d'appareil possible, la CSST a mis en ligne un outil de recherche comptant 35 fiches illustrées d'appareils différents. Chaque fiche présente la description d'un appareil, les critères de sélection dont il faut tenir compte à l'achat ou à la location ainsi que des conseils pour une utilisation sécuritaire. De plus, puisqu'il faut également tenir compte des différentes pièces composant les appareils, un glossaire complet donne des recommandations sur le choix des matériaux, des poignées, des roues, etc.

L'outil est muni d'un moteur de recherche permettant de faire une recherche par type de produits ainsi que par type de déplacement. Par exemple, si vous devez déplacer des chaises et une table dans un escalier au cours d'un déménagement, vous pouvez d'abord sélectionner « Chaises, tables » parmi les « produits à manutentionner » du menu déroulant puis préciser votre recherche parmi les différents types de déplacement que le menu propose, en sélectionnant, par exemple, « Transporter sur des niveaux différents (escaliers) ». Vous aurez alors accès aux fiches des diables et des autres appareils de manutention qui conviennent le mieux à votre besoin.

■ La SST, c'est le moment d'en parler

Les employeurs et les travailleurs sont invités à faire l'essai de l'outil de recherche et à amorcer la discussion sur les appareils de manutention à utiliser dans leurs milieux de travail respectifs, en fonction des tâches à réaliser. Plus largement, la CSST encourage le développement d'une culture de prévention des troubles musculo-squelettiques (TMS) dans les différents milieux de travail et elle poursuit en ce sens la création d'outils pour aider les employeurs et les travailleurs à prendre en charge la prévention. Le but ultime étant d'éliminer les risques responsables de lésions TMS et de mettre en place des solutions durables.

Better Partnerships for Better Business

2015 Annual Conference

Sunday, November 1, 2015 (5:00 pm)

– Tuesday, November 3, 2015 (Noon)

Ottawa Marriott Hotel,

100 Kent Street, Ottawa, Ontario

Canadian Association of Movers

Canada's Trade Association for the Moving Industry

Better Partnerships for Better Business

"I had an amazing time and found the conference to be extremely informative."

- Comment by a 2014 conference delegate

Dear fellow moving professional:

It's my pleasure to invite you to attend the Canadian Association of Movers' 20th annual conference in Canada's beautiful capital, Ottawa, Ontario.

Our conference theme this year is Better Partnerships for Better Business. It's all about developing effective relationships with industry stakeholders (government, industry associations, movers and consumers) that will help you build your business and improve your practices.

We're bringing a variety of professionals in the industry together to present their views on the challenges faced by and the future of our industry. They will offer some ideas on how to meet and prepare for those challenges. You'll hear about:

- The Ontario Government's plans to better protect consumers in the residential household goods moving marketplace.
- Processes that will improve the customs clearance of household goods coming into Canada.
- The challenges faced by and the future of the transportation industry in Canada.
- The importance of group benefits programs and effective human resource tools to respond to employees' needs and control costs.
- Effectively manoeuvring through the claims process in a workplace injury.

Beyond the sessions, attendees will have plenty of opportunity to network with each other – to share ideas on new directions, changes and challenges in the moving industry. Our program includes an informal reception for attendees to mingle and compare experiences; a trade show where leading members of the supplier community will showcase the latest in moving products and services; and our extremely popular Annual Awards Dinner at which CAM will honour distinguished members in the industry.

CAM's annual conference is an important industry event. Each year, it provides an opportunity for members to gain practical business management information that's tailored specifically to meet the special needs of household goods moving professionals. It's held through the sponsorship of Canada's leading van lines and top industry suppliers with CAM's appreciation.

Join us and begin building your new business partnerships.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Residential Movers and Consumer Protection

The Honourable David Oraziotti, Minister, Ontario Ministry of Government & Consumer Services

Moving is a big business in Ontario, and consumers often find themselves dealing with rogue operators who are misrepresenting themselves as legitimate movers. The Honourable David Oraziotti, Minister of Government and Consumer Services, is responsible for the Consumer Protection Act, 2002 which protects Ontarians against scams and frauds. Minister Oraziotti will open the conference and speak about the government's work to strengthen consumer marketplace fairness and transparency across a number of sectors, including within the residential moving industry.

SESSIONS

Tracy will provide an overview on the importation of casual goods into Canada as personal effects. This will include discussions on the legal requirements of the carrier and the importer as well as outline the current processes available to allow for the proper reporting, accounting and clearance of personal household effects imported into Canada.

Benefit Plans and HR Support – Invaluable Resources for Responsible Businesses

Gord Cowan and Bruce Tomkins, Partners, The GPS Consulting Group & Insurance Agencies Inc.

- be part of the purchasing power of the CAM aggregate group.
- “wipe the slate clean” and build an employee benefit program that will best meet your organization's and employees' needs while controlling future costs.

- access a full suite of customizable and flexible traditional and new wave benefits including Health Care Spending Accounts, Critical Illness, Employee Assistance Programs, Retirement Savings Plans.
- access HR resources and tools, designed for employers with 5 to 300 employees and based on a solid foundation of industry policies and best practices, to assist you in managing your human capital assets.

How to Challenge Questionable WSIB/WCB Claims in the Moving Industry

Greg Sathmary, Industrial Mediation Professional Corporation
