

Headline: Meet Our New President – Nancy Irvine

MISSISSAUGA, ON December 1, 2017:

CAM's Board of Directors is pleased to announce that Nancy Irvine assumed the presidency of the Canadian Association of Movers today, December 1, 2017.

Nancy brings her extensive experience in association management, constituency management, media and communications, logistics and household goods moving to CAM and our industry.

“Nancy’s work ethic and organizational skills are a highly sought-after attribute that Nancy has applied to her work in the transportation industry, in her leadership roles on committees and associations, as well in the various world class events she has organized and volunteered at over the years,” says Cam Carswell, Chair of the Canadian Association of Movers. “We are pleased that Nancy has signed a 5-year contract that will bring energy and positivity and give us the consistency in leadership that is required while CAM focusses on the challenges of technology developments, legislative changes, and the rise of rogue movers in our industry.”

Nancy recently moved after thirty years in the Halifax/Dartmouth/Cole Harbour area and now lives in Sarnia, ON. Welcome to CAM Nancy!

About Canadian Association of Movers (CAM)

The Canadian Association of Movers is Canada’s trade association representing reputable, professional moving & storage companies around the world. Other members of CAM include suppliers to the industry and trade associations in other countries.

Consumers can contact CAM for assistance in finding an ethical moving and storage company that will provide professional moving and storage services – a mover that subscribes to CAM’s code of ethics, meets CAM’s business standards and commits to mediation in the unlikely event of a dispute.
